MAROOCHY WETLANDS SANCTUARY BIRD OBSERVERS OUTINGS 2017

16th April 2017 at 0730, Cilento Bushland Conservation Reserve, NAMBOUR.

Meet in the carparking area at the end of Waterfalls Road, Nambour.

The Cilento Bushland Conservation Reserve is in Waterfall Road, Nambour, turn right off Mapleton Road, across from the Nambour Hospital, and drive to the end. It is a small park with a playground, barbecue and toilet amenities.

The 10.5 hectares of land where Cilento Reserve is now located was donated by Sir Ralph and Dame Phyllis Cilento to Maroochy Shire Council in 1952. The Cilentos were both prominent Sunshine Coast medical practitioners. Cilento Reserve's historical value lies in it being a World War II memorial. It was occupied by the 7th Battery 2/4th field artillery during that war.

A circuit walking trail will take us through bushland to the waterfall and swimming hole then back to the entrance. The track is mostly unpaved with some steps, so not suitable for wheelchairs or wheelie walkers on the full circuit.

The waterfall is officially called Robinson Falls and was named in honour of early settlers and brothers Edmund Alfred and Arthur Campbell Robinson. They owned and farmed land in Tucker's Creek, which flows into where the waterfall is located. It is looking good now that we have had rain.

Bring morning tea, lunch and a chair. And the usual: binoculars, camera, sunscreen, insect repellent, a hat, appropriate footwear and plenty of drinking water.
